

Amy Boerger
Vice President and General Manager North America
Cummins, Inc.

Amy Boerger – Vice President and General Manager North America

Amy joined Cummins in 1984 as an engineer (BS mechanical engineering from Valparaiso University) and has spent the bulk of her career in the North American Truck industry with a variety of marketing, service and sales roles. Her current role encompasses the field sales, OEM truck and bus business as well as product planning and engine programs.

Amy is active in the trucking industry and has sat on the Truckload Carriers Association board of directors, the American Transportation Research Institutes Advisory Committee and with the Allied Committee for the Trucking Industry is a past Vice President and President. She currently sits on the American Trucking Associations Executive Committee and Board of Directors and is a member of the Trucking Cares Foundation Board of Directors.